

HERE WE ARE! With around 900 colleagues at over 45 stations all over Europe, the Nayak Group is Europe's largest independent MRO service provider for almost all aviation maintenance services. Over the last few years and as a part of the group, Nayak-LM Germany GmbH has established itself on the German market with 12 locations. Together with you we want to grow further and expand this position by means of our experience, flexibility and team spirit. Our aim is to provide our customers with competent support and thus to make our contribution to safety in aviation.

For this we need you as soon as possible as active support for our excellent team at our Line Maintenance Station in Frankfurt (FRA) as:

Certifying Technician CAT B1 or CAT B1/B2 (m/f/d)

Your tasks:

- > You will independently carry out maintenance and repair work on the aircraft types maintained by us in compliance with all relevant valid regulations and within the framework of the qualifications acquired, thus contributing directly to safety of air traffic.
- > You certify the proper execution of maintenance work and ensure that our customers get their fleet into the air on time.
- > As a CAT B1 or CAT B1/B2, you give technical instructions, you coordinate and control the maintenance work of other employees with lower qualifications in the assigned work area and certify the proper execution
- > You support in simple logistical activities
- > You will work temporarily at maintenance stations in Germany and abroad

This job requests:

- > A completed vocational training in an aviation maintenance profession or comparable knowledge acquired through many years of activity
- > AML according to EASA Part-66, preferably Boeing B737NG/MAX, B787, B777 and B767, more type ratings are highly welcomed
- > Several years of experience in the maintenance and servicing of civil aircraft in the field of line or base maintenance
- > Very good knowledge of aviation law, in quality management systems of aviation and EASA regulations – if applicable, in particular about the rights and obligations as a mechanic B1 and/or B1/B2
